THE CHEAPEST COTTAGE PIANO IN INDIA.

MESSRS. MARCKS & Co., LD., Agents for Messrs. SCHIEDMAYER and SOEHNE, have the pleasure to announce, as the result of much careful negotiation on their part, that they have induced Messrs. Schiedmayer and Soehne to make a thorough good Pianoforte of the Cottage Shape, void of all ornamentations and possessing an action of the best quality, warranting durability, and a fullness and grandness of tone, characterising the High Reputation of the Celebrated Firm of Manufacturers, at a price to compensate for the low value of the Rupee at the present time.

Messrs. MARCKS & Co., Ld., are now able to offer these Pianos to the public and to guarantee them, with the utmost confidence, to give entire satisfaction to the purchaser and do credit to their recommendation.

These Pianos are built with the same amount of care and skill as the Standard Indian Sympathetic Squares by the same Makers, and are specially built for all tropical climates. Solid ebonized case, metal frame, full compass, perfect check action.

These Pianos have been made to meet a certain demand for Well-made Pianos at a fair price, and which demand would be very much greater—to quote an English Journal on its review of the Cheap Piano Trade—if it had never entered the mind of man to make gewgaws a nine pounds apiece and call them Pianos.

MACLEAN'S GUIDE TO BOMBAY AND BOMBAY DIRECTORY FOR 1895.

With Portrait of H. E. the Viceroy, LORD ELGIN.
PRINTED AND PUBLISHED
At the "BOMBAY GAZETTE" OFFICE.
PRICE: Rs. 5 with Postage, Rs. 5-4.

THE GUIDE AND DIRECTORY for the year 1895 contains much new and valuable information brought down to date, and narrates the history of the remarkable progress made by the City in recent years.

While recording the advance that has been made in the commerce and manufacturing industry of Bombay, the GUIDE gives a comprehensive account of the numerous charitable institutions of the different communities, and accurate and detailed descriptions of many public buildings which have been completed during the year.

THE BOMBAY DIRECTORY

Has been enlarged, verified, and carefully revised up to the day of going to Press. Valuable information has been added, and special care has been taken that te local information shall meet the wants of commercial men and the general public.

THE "Times," the leading newspaper in the world, says:—The volume may be opened at random, and will afford similar examples of the remarkable growth of the city and of the province. The compiler says that nowhere else, probably, in the world, not even in Alexandria, are so many and such striking varieties of race, nationality and religion presented as in Bombay. To all these varieties, and to a vast number of other statistics, as to the services, finances, manufactures, commerce, public health, and the like due attention is paid in this volume. The most important and interesting part of the Guide is the historical, which may be read at leisure, while the rest of the volume will serve as a trustworthy book of reference. A map of India and another of the Isle of Bombay add to the value of the Guide.

THE "Morning Post" says:—The edition for 18 has been carefully revised, and much information added meet the requirements of business men and the general blic. The residents of Bombay, and also visitors, will find an excellent work of reference as a directory, as well as historical and descriptive guide to this famous city.

THE London "Daily Chronicle" says:—There not, and there never has been, a better Guide for any part the world than that which Mr. J. M. Maclean, recentMember for Oldham, originally published at Bombay in 1. It is now annually brought up to date under the care his successor in the editorship and proprietorship of the "Bbay Gazette," Mr. Grattan Geary, and we never open pages without admiration for the masterly way in wh it marshals the innumerable facts connected with the past present of the great and increasingly beautiful city which ully calls itself "first in India." Altogether, to anyone heeding to or having business relations with India "Maclean Guide to Bombay" is simply indispensable, while to the dents of one of the finest cities, situated on one of the finest harbours of the whole empire, its value is beyond that of many rupees, of which it only costs five.

THE "Observer" says:—This handy volume, with its up-to-date directory and varied information about Bombay, will be found an invaluable companion by visitors to India, the information on the commercial and manufacturing progress of the city has been brought up to the close of last year, official and other authentic sources; the public buildings fully described, and a wealth of information of a character is given. The latest edition of this Guide be found of great value by both visitors and residents.

FATAL FALL OFF A TODDY TREE.—Mr. Allan F. Turner, the coroner, held an inquest, on Saturday, regarding the death of Vincent Joseph Pereira, a toddy-drawer, aged forty years, residing with his brother, at Lower Mahim. In the afternoon of the 10th instant the deceased, while standing on the top of a toddy tree, had his foot accidentally slipped, and he fell on to the ground, a distance of about thirty feet, injuring his spine. He was at once taken home, where in the evening the whole of the lower part of his body was paralysed, and on the following morning removed to the J. J. Hospital. On the 19th instant, an operation was performed on the spine to relieve the pressure on the cord. Deceased, however, grew worse, and died on Saturday morning. A verdict of accidental death was recorded.

ASSOCIATION FOOTBALL.—On Saturday evening, in spite of the threatening weather, a very large number of ladies and gentlemen, assembled on the Cooperage, to witness the football match played under the Association rules, between the Rovers and the Royal Artillery Depot team. The sides were evenly matched and a most exciting, but by no means rough, game was played. The Rovers though lighter in weight proved worthy rivals, and the Artillery team found it an impossible to steer a goal, as the Rovers themselves did against their heavy opponents. A full hour's play consisted the game, in which the [redacted] was very well displayed, and a good knowledge of "nursing the leather" was shown to an advantage. The game was a drawn one, neither party scoring any goal in the given time.

A FISHERMAN DROWNED.—An inquiry was held on Saturday, at Colaba, by Mr. Turner, the coroner, touching the death of Pudma Jankoo, a fisherman, aged sixty years. On Friday morning the deceased took his meals, and after taking his net and basket went out fishing as usual. As he did not return home until 8 p.m., the wife became alarmed, and gave information to the police, at the Colaba station, on the following morning. After informing the police she went in search of him along the seashore, and about 11 o'clock discovered the body of her husband, lying amongst the rocks, near the rifle butts, below high-water mark. Life was extinct, and there were some abrasions on the body, probably caused by rocks. Deceased was dumb, and had been following this occupation for the last several years. A verdict of accidental death by drowning was returned by the jury.

PICK-POCKETS AT THE NAGPUNCHMEE FAIR.—Before Mr. W. R. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, at the Mazagon Police Court, on Saturday, Subedar Tatia, of the Criminal Investigation Department, charged Goolabkhan Hyatkhan, a notorious thief, with stealing a purse, containing three annas in copper, belonging to one Gopal Crishna. The complainant was standing amongst a crowd of people collected at the Nagpunchmee Fair, at Ballasis Road, on Friday afternoon, when accused came up from behind, and having dexterously managed to thrust his hand into complainant's pocket, removed the purse, when a detective, in plain clothes, who had been watching the action of the man, at once arrested him, with the purse in his hand. He was convicted and sentenced to six months' rigorous imprisonment.—Luximon Narayen, a Hindu, who had been in the Reformatory, for a similar offence, was sentenced to six months' imprisonment, with hard labour.

Inspector Grey from Tarwady, Mazagon, to Water Police, in place of Inspector Williamson, who has been transferred to Mr. Grey's place.

WELL-FOUNDED SUSPICIONS.—At the Mazagon Police Court, on Saturday, Inspector Hurst charged Camla Luximon, a Hindu, of disreputable character, having a record of three previous convictions against him, before Mr. W. R. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, with two separate counts, theft of silver ornaments, and wearing apparel, of the collective value of Rs. 15 belonging to Toolsee, a woman, and Dharma Bheewa, both Municipal labourers, residing at a new chawl, at Cammatipoora. The thefts in both the cases were committed by the accused some time between the 14th and 25th instant, but no reports were made to the police. On Friday the police arrested accused on suspicion at the 5th Lane Cammatipoora, and on inquiry recovered the property from two Marwarees, to whom it had been sold by the accused, and which on being shown to complainant, was at once identified by them as their own. Accused admitted the offence as well as the previous convictions, and was sentenced to nine months' rigorous imprisonment.

DEATH OF A PERSIAN SCHOLAR.—We regret to announce the death, at Nowsaree, on the 24th instant, of Mr. Jamshedjee Bejonjee Kanga, Persian Teacher in the New High School. The deceased was a good Persian scholar, and was engaged in compiling and editing the "Persian Readers" for the use of junior classes of the school. These primers are now widely used in other schools, and are well-adapted to impart a knowledge of the Persian language to young students. The continual strain upon the mind of the late teacher, both as an author and as a tutor, severely told upon his health, and in order to seek relaxation from his labour, he went to Nowsaree, where, instead of improving in mind and body, he grew worse, and in a moment of temporary aberration of mind, he fell into a well, on Wednesday night last, and was drowned. He was the author of "Hints on Persian" and "Gems of Persian Prose and Poetry," books which have been found to be of great use to students preparing for the Matriculation Examination. Mr. Kanga was of a very amiable disposition, and his untimely death, being only thirty-eight years of age, will be felt equally by his friends and by his pupils.

FATAL CONSEQUENCE OF DRINK.—A coroner's inquiry was held, on Saturday, at the Gooldas Tejpal Hospital, on the body of Pedro Caetano DeSouza, aged thirty years, residing in a "coor," at the Old Sonapore Lane. The deceased was formerly a billiard-marker in the British India Captains' Club, but was recently dismissed owing to his drunken habits. On the afternoon of the 22nd instant DeSouza was drunk, and was heard making a peculiar noise by a neighbour, who went into the deceased's room, and found him lying on the floor with a wound on the throat, and a large clasp knife lying near him. The neighbour raised an alarm, the police were sent for, and DeSouza was conveyed to the Gooldas Tejpal Hospital, where on examination it was ascertained that he had sustained an incised wound of about two inches and a quarter long in the front and upper part of the neck, opening the wind pipe for about half-an-inch. After the wound was dressed, deceased regained his consciousness, and then admitted having cut his throat with his own hand, while under the influence of liquor. After admission pneumonia set in, and deceased died at 1-40 p.m., on Saturday. The jury returned a verdict that the death was due to pneumonia, following the incised wound of the neck and windpipe, inflicted by the deceased, while under temporary insanity.

APPEAL ON BEHALF OF A CONDEMNED GIRL.—The Dadur Ishwar Bhajan Mandali, i.e., God-Adoring Society, has resolved to appeal to Government, on behalf of Amniawa Nabisaheb, the young girl, in whose case the High Court has confirmed the sentence of death, passed upon her by the Sessions Judge of Bijapur. A meeting of sympathisers with the movement for having the sentence mitigated, was held, on Saturday night last, on the premises of the Dharamsey Purshotum School, at Dadur, under the auspices of the Society, when the Rev. Father Henriques, vicar of the Catholic Church, at Dadar, was called to the chair. The proceedings were opened with prayer, after which Mr. K. N. Kane, the secretary of the society, read letters received from sympathisers with the movement, and the chairman, in explaining the object of the meeting, recapitulated the reasons, for which a mitigation of the sentence of death, passed upon the unfortunate girl was considered fair and just. Other speakers, in supporting the arguments of the chairman, added that the condemned girl was only sixteen or seventeen years of age, and appeared to be enciente. The meeting unanimously resolved to send a petition to Government, on behalf of the girl, which was signed by those present. Thanks were voted to the chairman, and with three cheers for the Queen-Empress, and three more for H. E. Lord Sandhurst, the proceedings terminated.

AN UNTRUSTWORTHY ACQUAINTANCE.—At the Mazagon Police Court, on Saturday, Inspector Hurst charged Anunt Nursoo Godbole, a sub-inspector in the Health Department, Bombay Municipality, residing at Duncan Road, before Mr. P. H. Dastur, Fourth Presidency Magistrate, with criminal breach of trust, in respect of a gold watch and chain, pieces of wearing apparel and two books, "American Wonderland" and a "Royal Photographic Gallery," in all collectively valued at Rs. 573, belonging to Mucundraj Vishram, a Hindu student. It appears that about six months ago complainant returned to Bombay from his tours in Europe and America, and took up his residence in the same house, in which the accused also lived. They formed an acquaintance with the accused, and managed to induce complainant to lend him the articles mentioned in the charge. A few weeks ago some misunderstanding arose between them, and they fell out. Complainant demanded the return of his articles, and accused put him off from time to time on various pretences. Ultimately complainant reported the matter to the police, and Inspector Hurst upon an enquiry recovered the articles from several marwarees, with whom they had been pledged by the accused. Anunt was convicted, and sentenced to one day's imprisonment in each case, and to pay a fine of Rs. 100, with the alternative of two months' imprisonment, with hard labour.

PENALTY FOR FALSE COMPLAINT.—At the instance of Inspector Butfoy, two Khojas, named Hassan Ismail and Moosa Ismail, both brothers, were, on Saturday, brought up before Mr. W. R. Hamilton, Second Presidency Magistrate, at the Mazagon Police Court, and charged with committing robbery, in that they forcibly took away from the person of a Purdesee rent-collector, named Dowparsad Ooja, two currency notes for Rs. 10 [redacted] urday night, at Nowroji [redacted] day afternoon, the rent-collector went to the accused's house, at Nowroji Hill, to demand rent due to him by them, when he had some quarrels with the wives of the two accused, who were then away from home at their work. In the evening the two accused returned home, and on hearing from their wives about the altercation they had with the complainant, sent for the latter, and on his going there, a scuffle ensued between him and the two accused, when it was alleged the latter robbed the rent-collector of the money he had with him at the time. Inspector Butfoy who had investigated the matter, informed the magistrate, that there appeared to be no truth in the complaint, made by the rent-collector. The magistrate, after recording the evidence, discharged the two accused, and fined complainant Rs. 100, for making a false complaint, and ordered the whole of the fine to be given to the two accused, as compensation.

ALLEGED BURGLARY AT GIRGAUM.—Bhugwandas Cursondas, a Gujarati clerk, in the employ of Messrs. H. A. Hormarji Wadia and Co., residing with his wife in a house, at Ramwady, Girgaum, has reported to the police that for the last ten years he had left a large wooden box, with a small fancy box in it, the latter, containing gold and silver ornaments, of the aggregate value of Rs. 6,471, in his father-in-law's house, who lives in the same neighbourhood. On Friday last, the father-in-law looked the doors leading to the passage, and went to sleep in his bed-room. On the following morning he found the lock on the door at the passage intact, but on going to the room, in which the box was located, he discovered to his surprise that the door was fastened from inside. He became suspicious, and raised an alarm. He called one of his servants, who got on to a window, and walking along the cornice, jumped into the room through another window, and opened the door from inside. The father-in-law at once walked inside, and saw that his worst expectations had been realised. The large box was broken open, and the small box was lying on the floor near it, minus its contents. Information was given to the police, and Superintendent Grennan and Inspector Wilkins immediately proceeded to the house, and investigated the matter. From inquiries made and the situation of the room, the police came to the conclusion that this must have been done by some inmates of the house. Although the box was found broken open, neither complainant nor the other inmates heard any noise during the night. The Commissioner and the Deputy Commissioner also visited the place, on Saturday morning.

FATAL RESULT OF A FOOLHARDY VOYAGE.

YESTERDAY morning, at about 1-30 a.m., two sailors belonging to the s. s. Mount Hebron, now lying in harbour, came to the Stone Bunder, in company with a friend, named Edward Wheland, who was about to be engaged on board the vessel as a fireman, and asked Ahmed Cassum, the tindal of the tony number 10706, to convey them to the s. s. Mount Hebron, but the tindal refused to take them, on account of the roughness of the weather. The men, however, persisted in going on board, and got into the tony for the purpose. On reaching the gangway one of the sailor got on deck and the second held to the laddar, and asked the watchman on deck for a rope to be thrown down, the watchman replied that there was a rope at the gangway ladder, and told the man to fasten the tony to it. Almost directly afterwards he heard the second sailor say that Edward Wheland had fallen into the sea. It seems that Edward Wheland was drunk and while trying to get up overbalanced himself, and fell overboard before his friend could render him any help. The second sailor asked the watchman to throw a buoy he immediately ran aft through the sail brace to search for a buoy, but owing to the darkness was unable to get one. He brought a rope, but before he had time to give any assistance Wheland sank for the last time. The sea was very rough, a heavy gale was blowing, and there was no possible means of saving the man. The matter was at once reported to Constable E. Coxen of the Water Police, who proceeded to the scene, and made a diligent search for the man, but to no purpose. His body had not been found at a late hour last evening.

PUBLIC COMPANY MEETINGS.

THE GOCULDAS CULLIANJEE COTTON PRESS COMPANY.

ON Saturday an ordinary general meeting of shareholders of the company was held, at the registered office, Hooli Chuckla, Fort, when Mr. Dowjee Ramjee, chairman of the board of directors, presided. The following directors' report was submitted to the meeting:—

The directors beg to submit to the shareholders their report and the audited accounts of the company for the half-year ending 30th June, 1895. The preliminary charges shown in the account are only in respect of the registration fees paid for registering the company. The lawyers' charges for the formation of the company and matters connected therewith remain to be paid. The directors take this opportunity of congratulating the company on the result of the working which shows a fair profit of Rs. 5,457-4-2, which they propose to carry forward to the next years' account. The directors regret to say that two of the members of the agents' firm, viz., Messrs. Jethabhai Cullianjee and Bhugwandass Jethabhai, became insolvents early in June last, which considerably affected the company's business. The directors think it their duty to bring it to the notice of the shareholders, that at the time when the press and the leasehold premises on which it stands were purchased from their former owners, Messrs. Gocouldas Cullianjee and Co., the same were subject to a heavy mortgage debt in favour of one Mr. Lulloobhai Nanabhai. This fact was never brought to the notice of the company or the directors. When, however, the mortgagee took possession of the premises after the insolvency of the said Messrs. Jethabhai Cullianjee and Bhugwandass Jethabhai, the directors came to know of the existence of the said mortgage. The directors are very glad, however, to report that after much difficulty they have been successful in getting the mortgagee's claim paid off without any substantial loss to the company, and that the company is now free from incumbrances of a similar nature. The landlords of the company's leasehold premises, namely the Colaba Land and Mill Co., Limited, had also taken possession of the company's press as the arrears of rent due to them to the extent of Rs. 7,000 had not been paid. Under these circumstances the company has had to pay their claim although the greater part thereof was payable by the vendors. The directors have, however, taken the precaution of securing to the Company the repayment of the extra amount so paid. Shortly after the formation of the company, Mr. Purmanand Jivandas, one of the directors, retired from the board, and Mr. Motichund Devchund was appointed a director in his stead. At the same time Mr. Maganlal Dalpatram Khakhar was appointed an additional director under article 109 of the articles of association. Two of the directors, Messrs. Jethabhai Cullianjee and Bhugwandas Jathabhai (one of whom, was ex-officio director) having become insolvents ceased to become members of the board, and in their place Mr. Hemraj Ramjee has been appointed a director. Mr. Dowjee Ramjee retires from the Board under article 114, but is eligible for re-election. Mr. Maganlal Dalpatram Khakhar also retires under article 109, but is eligible for re-election. The appointments of Messrs. Motichand Devchund and Hemraj Ramji will have to be confirmed. The board have appointed Mr. Palanji Framji Mehta, the auditor of the company. His appointment will have to be confirmed, and a new auditor or auditors will have to be appointed, and his or their remunerations will have to be fixed. The directors think it desirable to curtail the very wide powers given by articles 136 and 137 to the secretaries, treasurers, and agents of the company, and they therefore submit for the consideration of the shareholders the amendments of the 136 and 137 articles as proposed by them, which render all important acts of the agents subject to the control of the board.

The report and the audited accounts were approved, adopted, and confirmed. The appointment by the board of Messrs. Motichand Dawchand and Hemraj Ramjee, as directors, was confirmed. Messrs. Maganlal Dalpatram Khakhar and Dowjee Ramjee, who retired by rotation, were re-elected directors. Mr. Pallonjee Framjee Mehta's appointment as an auditor was confirmed, and he was elected auditor for the ensuing year with a remuneration of Rs. 100. Mr. Thomas Moore thanked the directors, and congratulated the shareholders, for the excellent arrangements made by the former in the interest of the latter in order to get the debts liquidated, and to land the company out of its difficulties. With a vote of thanks to the chairman, the proceedings terminated.

Immediately after an extraordinary general meeting was held to pass certain special resolutions for altering the articles of association as indicated above in the directors' report. The alterations in question were proposed, when Mr. Thomas Moore pointed out that, if passed, they would have the effect of confirming the appointment of the present secretaries, treasurers, and agents. An amendment was thereupon proposed and carried to the effect that the proposed alterations in the articles be not made at present. The proceedings then terminated.

THE BOMBAY COTTON MANUFACTURING COMPANY, LIMITED.

THE twelfth ordinary general meeting of the shareholders of the above company was held on Saturday afternoon, at the registered office No. 5 Green Street, Fort, Mr. Dwarkadas Dharamsey presiding. The notice convening the meeting having been read the following directors' report, which had been circulated amongst the shareholders, was taken as read:—

Your directors beg to submit this twelfth annual report for the year ending 30th June last, as will be seen from the accounts as circulated herewith. The year's working has resulted in a profit of Rs. 1,37,94-6-6, which with Rs. 556-11-8, the balance brought forward from last year, gives a total of Rs. 1,38,503-2-2 to the credit of profit and loss account. Your directors trust that the result will be considered satisfactory. Your directors have declared and paid an ad-interim dividend for the half-year ending 31st December last of Rs. 15 per share, which has absorbed Rs. 18,000, and they propose to appropriate the balance of profit, viz., Rs. 1,20,503-2-2 as follows:—To machinery depreciation fund account Rs. 50,000; to reserve fund account, Rs. 30,000,; to payment of a dividend at Rs. 30 per share for the half-year ended 30th June, 1895, Rs. 36,000, to bonus to employes, Rs. 3,000; to carry forward to next year's account, Rs. 1,503-2-2.

The stock in hand at the end of the year is as usual taken and certified by your auditor. Mr. Gordhundas Khattau retires by rotation, but is eligible for re-election. Your property, including cotton, yarn, and stock in process, &c., is insured for Rs. 11,00,000. You are requested to appoint an auditor, and to fix his remuneration.

The report was unanimously adopted and passed. A dividend at the rate of Rs. 30 per share was declared, and made payable on and after the 29th instant. Mr. Gordhandas Khattau, who retired by rotation from the board of directors, was re-elected director for the current year. Mr. P. S. Kharegat was re-appointed auditor for the ensuing year at a remuneration of Rs. 350. A bonus of Rs. 3,000 was sanctioned for distributing amongst the Company's employes at the discretion of the agent. The customary compliment to the chair terminated the proceedings.

THE LAW REGARDING BILLS OF EXCHANGE.

SMALL CAUSES COURT.

(Before Khan Bahadur MAHOMED HOSSEIN HAKIM, the 5th Judge.)

RITCHIE STEWART AND COMPANY VS. RAMDAS PURSHOTUMDAS.

THIS was a suit to recover Rs. 142, being the balance of a re-draft accepted by the defendant; Mr. Atmaram appeared for the plaintiff, while the defendant was represented by Mr. Munchashunker.

The fifth judge, in disposing of the case, remarked that Messrs. Finlay, Campbell and Company drew the bill of exchange or redraft upon defendant, and made it payable to the plaintiffs. The bill of exchange was payable on demand, and therefore no acceptance by the defendant was necessary. It was not a dishonoured bill, and it need not therefore be protested. When plaintiffs presented the bill, defendant did pay Rs. 500, the entire bill being drawn for Rs. 625-8-3, and the Court found that the payment which defendant made of Rs. 500, was on account of that redraft. Plaintiffs had hypothecated the bill-of-lading, etc., for defendants' fifty-nine bales of cotton, he (defendant) having approved and confirmed the letter of hypothecation as per letter A., which contained a clause that on failure of acceptance, or payment of such draft on presentation, the amount thereof should be recoverable forthwith by the plaintiffs. His Honour disallowed the telegram charges and held that the rest of the claim was proved. The court accordingly passed a decree for the plaintiffs for Rs. 134-12-10 and costs in proportion and Rs. 30, professional costs, to plaintiffs' pleader.

NEWS OF THE DAY.

IT is possible Sirdar Nasr-Ullah may pay a visit to Simla on his way back to Afghanistan in October, but nothing is known definitely yet on this point.

THE provisioning of the Gilgit Agency is now proceeding satisfactorily, but the movement of stores is later than usual, owing to the Kashmir passes having received a heavy snowfall in June

MR. RICE, a barrister, and once a member of the Indian Civil Service, was convicted of criminal breach of trust at Rangoon on Wednesday, and sentenced to six months' simple imprisonment. An appeal will be preferred.

MR. J. A. D. HEATON, whose sad death from cholera is reported from Rangoon, was a son of Mr. J. Henniker Heaton, M.P., of Imperial Penny Postage fame. The young barrister, who was popular and successful, had had an adventurous career before settling in Rangoon eight years ago. He was Registrar of the Diocese, Rangoon, and had lately received the honorary degree of LL.D., from Cambridge.

A SCHEME is now on foot whereby a depot can be formed at Rawalpindi for Government stallions for the Punjab and Derajat, Rawalpindi being close to the hills. It is hoped that accommodation will be found close by for all newly-imported Australian and English horses. The scheme, towards which considerable sum is already assured, will probably cost rather over a lakh.

A CORRESPONDENT writes:—It is reported that the river at Hassan Abdal is being poached by natives with dynamite. The ringleader is said to be a lohar called Abdullah. Surely this is a breach of the Fishery Law. Are there no anglers in Rawal Pindi keen enough to save sport being utterly ruined under their noses? The civil authorities don't seem to mind either the destruction of the fish, or the fact that natives are in unlawful possession of dynamite.

A FLUTTER among field officers is likely to be caused by the announcement that two Majors commanding field batteries are to be compulsorily retired owing to their having been badly reported upon for several years in succession. We trace the strong hand of Sir Redvers Buller in this, for the present Adjutant-General is determined to clear inefficient officers out of the Service.

THERE appears to be a regular gang of thieves prevailing about Pindi at present. One night last week the wife of an officer was awakened by a slight noise, and saw a native passing by her bed. She shouted for the chowkidar who was ultimately found slumbering sweetly close to the door through which the thief must have entered. That same night three men were found at the bungalow of Major Littledale, 4th Dragoon Guards, who is at present in Kashmir. The servants hunted them off after they had broken several padlocks and wrenched the staples out of two doors. The next night a gang of a dozen returned, but all the servants were up, and they went off threatening to kill the chowkidar. The 4th Dragoon mess was their next draw; also blank, for the servants were waiting, and they then adjourned to a dhoby's hut close by, where they succeeded getting in hold of all the week's wash belonging to four officers in the Artillery. The police are well on the alert, a guard being sent up to Major Littledale's bungalow, which is some distance beyond cantonments.

IT is strange, although satisfactory, remarks a contempory, that a popular profession once much followed in the Punjab, is falling into disuse. It was a reasonably safe and lucrative calling, involving no little pleasurable excitement in its pursuit and preferable to cattle-lifting or dacoity, which are attended with much risk. We refer to horse stealing. For the scores of horses that used to be carried off out of cantonments and camps in the good old days, one hears of only a stray case now and again. On the night of the 22nd instant, during the storm, a valuable pony was stolen out of the stables of Assistant Surgeon Balkishen Kaul at Lahore and safely carried off. It will be marvellous if it is ever traced. Mr. Derrington Turner's Arab pony, stolen at Lahore over eighteen months ago, has never been overtaken by his pusuers.

THE Government of India, in reviewing the annual returns of the Civil Hospitals and Dispensaries in the Madras Presidency for the year 1893, has expressed its satisfaction with the increase in the total number of patients treated during the year, though a smaller percentage of the population has been afforded medical relief in this Presidency than in Bombay and the Punjab. The general charges in this Presidency appear to the Government of India to be somewhat high. The average diet charges for patients it finds to have been in excess of those for prisoners. The average cost of medicines per patient in Madras is remarked to be twice as high as in the N.-W. P. and Oudh, and the same fault is found with reference to the cost of establishment, which is nearly double that of the N.-W. P. and Oudh and the Punjab. These charges seem to the Government of India to be unduly swelled owing to the number of branch dispensaries in which accommodation is provided for in-door patients, entailing the maintenance of expensive menial establishments. The Madras Government referred these observations to the Surgeon-General for remarks, and he submitted a detailed explanatory report. The Madras Government while recording the Surgeon-General's explanations impressed upon him the necessity for keeping down expenditure as much as is consistent with efficiency.

THE lamas who have made mischief in connection with the Sikkim-Tibet demarcation are connected with the three great monasteries at Lhassa which really control affairs in Tibet. They form what may be called the national party, and are as intolerant of Chinese influence as of any relations with European Powers. Thus they defy the Amban from Pekin, and as he has no armed force at his disposal to make his wishes much less his commands, respected he cannot bring any pressure to bear upon them. It was unquestionably by their orders that the boundary pillars were destroyed, and they are now probably studying the inscriptions on the slabs which they ordered to be carried to Lhassa. The Amban's position must be humiliating, but the officials sent from Pekin are accustomed to scurvy treatment and have to submit to it with as good a grace as possible. On the other hand, our Boundary Commissioner has, it appears to us, remained quite long enough on the border, and his withdrawal would now seem desirable. It would be undignified on the part of the British Government to keep its representative any longer waiting on the pleasure of the lamas, and this is virtually the position. After all it is no great matter whether boundary pillars are erected or not, for the country is a mass of tremendous hills, and it is only at the passes that any question can arise as to territorial rights. So long as the Gnatong post is held, the local Tibetans are not likely to give trouble.

SOME experiments in enlistment have been tried in the Burma Military Police with a view to reduce the drain of men from India. Over a thousand sepoys are required each year to fill the gaps caused by casualties, resignations, desertions and dismissals, and nearly all these have to come from across the Bay, as only 500 or 600 men (Karens) are recruited in Burma itself out of the 15,000 in the ranks. Now it is plain that if good sepoys can be got on the borderland of the Province, each man recruited will reduce the number drawn from India. A beginning has been made with the Panthays, that strange Mahomedan race whom the Chinese tried their best to exterminate. Twenty-four were enlisted in 1894 in the Ruby Mines' Battalion, and the Commandant was delighted with them. "They are sturdy, inteligent men," he says, "and can be enlisted in large numbers. They make good soldiers, and should prove an acquisition to the military police, while, as a source of supply, they are invaluable. In spite of difference in language, they have proved quick at learning their drill. They are easy to get on with and amenable to discipline." It is suggested that a whole company should be raised with officers of their own, and if the supply is as unlimited as it is said to be, a thousand of them might be enrolled.

SCHOOL FOR ENGLISH GIRLS AT OOTACAMAND.

IN these days when exchange rules so low, many Englishmen holding official positions in this country find it difficult to send their daughters home for education; and, therefore, the opening of a school for the daughters of English people residing in India, by the Kilburn Sisters, the "Sisters of the Church" at Ootacamand, will be a great boon to many English parents. The object of the school, which promises to be a most useful institution, is to impart a thorough English education and to bring up the girls in every respect as they would be in England. The school being established at such a charming and delightful hill station, at Ooty, and being entrusted to the care of the Sisters, there is not the least doubt that a very large number of pupils will be attracted to the institution. It is hoped that the appeal to make the praiseworthy efforts of the Sisters most successful by pecuniary and other aids will not be in vain, and that many gentlemen will contribute according to their ability to make the institution self-supporting. Donations or gifts in kind, cup-boards, books for the library or piano would be thankfully received by the local secretaries. It appears from the prospectus that special arrangements are made to receive children from three to eight years of age in the Kindergarten department, which is conducted entirely apart from the school. In the junior department children from eight to thirteen years of age are received and the course includes the elementary studies. In the senior department, the course includes mathematics, history, geography, science, drawing and literature, instruction in divinity, elocution, musical drill, and class singing is given to all classes. Constant supervision is exercised over the manners of the pupils, their method of speech, and their neatness in dress. All pupils have regular instructions in calisthenics, which combine special physical exercise with instruction in grace of movement. It is satisfactory to note that attention to religious instruction is given in each class throughout the school, comprising lessons on the Holy Scripture, the Prayer Book and Church History. At the earliest opportunity the Sisters propose to open an Industrial Home, where the poor Eurasians can be taught some useful occupation, by which they can earn a respectable livelihood.

SURAT ANJUMAN-I-ISLAM.

A CORRESPONDENT writes:—The Anjuman-i-Islam, Surat, called a public Mahomedan meeting, by issuing 5,000 handbills, to meet on Friday, the 26th instant, at the mosque of Khawja Dana Saheb, at 1-30 p.m. Before the appointed time crowds of Mahomedans assembled. The whole mosque was crowded, and the open space adjacent was also full with people. At 2 o'clock the report of the last meeting was read and signed by the president. The aims and objects of the Anjuman were read, viz:—(1) Mahomedan education, (2) giving scholarships to poor students, (3) burying the helpless Moslems, and (4) assisting the converted to Islam by circumcising and giving them religious education.

Letters were written to the Civil Surgeon and the Jail Superintendent to ask them to inform the Secretary of the Anjuman without delay when any Mahomedan under their control dies. Moulvi Mahomed Kazam Saheb preached for one hour on religious points. Moulvi Abdul Cader Saheb Bakza delivered a lecture on education and dwelt with his subject very extensively, explaining the benefits of education, and disadvantages arising from its want. He earnestly solicited the crowds who had assembled, to send their children to schools and educate them. Those who are poor will get scholarships from the Anjuman. Such students as pass some examination or other will be able to earn their livelihood. Munshi K. B. Gulam Mahomed explained in short the benefits of unity and concord and disadvantages of disunion and seperation, and berged those present to help the Anjuman by pecuniary assistance. The heads of different communities should get up as much as possible by subscription for the assistance of the Anjuman. Moulvi Ahmed-ud-din-Saheb Punjabi discoursed on various religious points. Moulvi Hidayat-ul-Rasool Saheb of Lucknow, who has especially been called here by the Anjuman from Bombay, made a speech at great length on the religion of Islam, and said that the Islam is termed as the "Religion of the Sword," but on the contrary it is not so. No one sent a sword against Mr. Quilliam of Liverpool and Mr. Abdulla Russell Webb. The religion of Islam is the creed of the Unity of God. At 5-30 p.m. thanks were voted to the president, and the meeting dissolved.

UMRA KHAN AND HIS RELATIVES.

THE relatives of Umra Khan sent down to Peshawar from Jellalabad, were Majid Khan, son of Abbas Khan, cousin of Umra Khan, with his nephews and sons, 20 servants and about 100 women and children. They left under an escort of two of the Amir's officers and fifteen sowars. Majid Khan is a resident of Bajaur and accompanied Umra Khan to Kabul, where their families joined them.

According to accounts gathered by our correspondents at Kabul and Jellalabad, the reason for this deportation of Majid Khan arose from a sort of quarrel or discontent at the Amir's treatment of the Bajaur Chief. On the Eed day the Amir in open Durbar offered a khillat of Rs. 6,000 cash to Umra Khan and conferred on him the title of Sirdar Bahadur. This displeased Majid Khan, who is not on very good terms with his cousin, but the latter besought him not to create disturbances while they were both refugees in a foreign country, and promised to give him anything he required.

Soon after this, when the family of Umra Khan reached Kabul, and his wife was invited by the Amir's Begum to visit her for three days and after that was presented with valuable clothing, Majid Khan again became jealous and angry. Ultimately, when the Amir granted Chardeh to Umra Khan, and asked him "to conduct the command of the Kabul army once a week," Majid Khan personally went to protest with his Highness. He told him that his father Abbas Khan, the first Khan of Bajaur was killed by Aman Khan (father of Umra Khan,) on whose death Umra Khan's brother Haidar Khan became ruler of the country; Umra Khan being at the time a refugee in India went on a pilgrimage to Mecca. On return from pilgrimage Umra Khan entered Bajaur secretly, and finding opportunity killed his brother and captured Bajaur. At that time Majid Khan did not stand against Umra Khan but helped him, but he had now forgotten the help, and no portion of the khillat has been given to him. If the Amir allowed him, continued Majid he would himself take possession of Bajaur, which had not yet been occupied by British troops. To this the Amir replied that he would not advise Majid Khan going to Bajaur, but would send his party to Turkistan.

Umra Khan was summoned in audience the next day, and the Amir in a talk with him, which lasted two hours, expressed his intention of sending his cousin to Turkistan. Umra Khan, however, humbly entreated the Amir to cancel his order and send them instead to Peshawar, and in this the Amir concurred, and has sent them to Peshawar with a body guard, not as prisoners, but with due respect. They are now there awaiting the orders of the Government of India.—"C. and M. Gazette."

WHO, asks a contemporary, is supposed to look after the health of the Military Police in Burma? In several stations the mortality among this splendid body of men can be distinctly traced to insanitary surroundings. A few quotations from the last Police Administration Report go to prove this. At Toungoo the Civil Surgeon "considers that much of the ague is due to the situation of the barracks, around which there is a good deal of low-lying swampy ground." From Bhamo the Deputy Commissioner writes: "If the old lines are rebuilt in a fashion so as to render them fit for habitation, which they are not at present, the general health may improve;" while as regards the Kwitu outpost he remarks: "More money will have to be spent in clearing jungle in the vicinity if the post is to prove anything but a fever-trap in the future." In the matter of medical treatment, too, there is room for improvement. Thus the Upper Chindwin battalion is over 1,200 strong, and it has to hold 19 posts scattered over a large area. The Commandant writes: "There are at present at head-quarters 1 hospital assistant and 1 compounder, and at the outposts 4 hospital assistants and 8 compounders. Considering the out-of-the-way places posts are in, and that sick men have to be sent miles—sometimes several days' journey—before good medical assistance can be obtained, I think a more liberal supply of hospital assistants is needed." Five hospital assistants and nine compounders are certainly a small number for the work to be done, and it is to be hoped that more will be added. It is cheaper to save sepoys' lives than to have to pay pensions to their families. The police are mainly composed of the flower of the Punjab fighting-races, and should be looked after most carefully, if for no other reason than that they may at any mo

GROSS NEGLECT OF THE EYES IS THE MOST PRODIGAL OF ALL NEGLECT.
CELEBRATED PERFECT PEBBLE SPECTACLES & EYE GLASSES.

MESSRS. MARCKS & Company, Limited, are the only Representatives in India for Dr. MENIST, of AMSTERDAM and LONDON, whose Perfect Pebble Spectacles are so widely and favourably known throughout the country. The Eye is the most delicate organ of sense, and too great care and pains cannot be lavished on perfecting, to the utmost extent of our knowledge, those artificial aids which under certain ages are found to be indispensable to comfort. Spectacles may be obtained from us for Half the Price of Dr. MENIST'S, but when it becomes a question of economising a little money at the risk of injuring the sight, the economy is a very double one.

In DR. MENIST'S PERFECT PEBBLE SPECTACLES every detail has been most carefully studied. Not only does he use the purest natural Crystal or Pebble, which is infinitely better for the Eye than any artificial Glass, but cuts the Lenses in strict accordance with the latest improvements of Science, combined with a principle discovered by himself, which renders them quite unapproachable by those of any other maker. The frames, too, are the results of years of patient study and gradual improvement, leaving now little to be desired.

Each Eye most carefully examined and measured, and suitable Lenses supplied to remedy every defect in vision.

SPECTACLES to benefit the sight must be exactly adapted for the correction of the particular defect of sight for which they are designed.

The first important step, therefore, is to get the refraction accurately defined, and all necessary measurements taken. Spectacles are then prepared specially, in accordance with the requirements of each case, and it is only when thus precisely adapted, that beneficial effects can be relied upon.

Astigmatism, a common enough complication, can only be corrected in this way. Ordinary spectacle vendors never attempt it, or at most can forward an oculist's formula to Europe. In our Bombay Factory, any kind of lense can be cut, at a few days' notice, whether spherical, cylinder, both combined, or bifocal.

At our Reception Rooms in the three Presidency towns we have perfect arrangements for Testing the Sight, and we also endeavour to visit the chief mofussil stations periodically for the same purpose. In the intervals the best advice we can offer to persons at a distance is to get a proper definition from a qualified medical man rather than select glasses themselves haphazard. We can then prepare Spectacles that will correct any defects arising out of removeable conditions of the refraction.

In our local Cotton market, but little business has been reported to-day, though the feeling has been steady, and prices are all unchanged. # The Bombay Gazette

MONDAY, JULY 29, 1895.

THIS morning's telegrams bring the results of the Elections practically to a close. Six hundred and sixty-five, out of the six hundred and seventy seats, have been won and lost, and there remain five more to come in. Reuter says only four. Possibly he omits Orkney and Shetland. Anyhow, he wants five to make up 670, since 340 Conservatives, 70 Unionists, 173 Liberals, 12 Parnellites, 68 Anti-Parnellites, and two Labour candidates only make a total of 665. The puzzle is of course to find the missing member. But whether he has been made away with in Reuter's London office or lost in transmission matters little. Lord Salisbury has a majority, roughly, of a hundred and fifty, which means three hundred on a division. With this unprecedented number the new Parliament is certain of a long life, and whether their opponents chose to object to adjourn for the Derby or not, as Mr. Childers suggested the other day, the Unionists have it all their own way, and will be able to do exactly as they please. Among the last two batches of members to hand are Mr. Leonard Courtney, a former Minister of Mr. Gladstone's before the Unionist secession; Mr. Osborne-Morgan, who served successively as Judge Advocate-General and Under-Secretary for the Colonies under the two Liberal Governments; Mr. J. B. Balfour, a Liberal Solicitor-General for Scotland and Lord Advocate, Mr. C. B. M'Laren, Mr. Joseph Arch, "The Wat Tyler of peaceful times;" Sir J. Joicey, the chief proprietor of the Newcastle Leader, Sir Henry Havelock-Allan, who is as well-known in this country as he is at home, and Sir J. Pender, of the Eastern Telegraph Company. Mr. Cochrane, the new M.P. for North Ayrshire, is the gentleman who defeated Sir William Wedderburn in 1892. Sir B. W. Foster of Ilkestone, is the distinguished physician, and Mr. McHugh of South Armagh, the individual who asked Sir Richard Temple what had he "served as in India—a clerk?" Mr. D. Nicol for Argyle displaces Mr. Macfarlane, the first Roman Catholic ever returned for a Scotch constituency. Mr. Pollock displaces Mr. H. Stewart, a local journalist for Spalding. Mr. Hugh McCalmont at Newmarket unseats Sir G Newnes of Tit-bits fame. Captain Challoner takes the place of Mr. Fuller, a Liberal relative of Sir M. Hicks-Beach. Mr. R. G. Verney gains a seat for his party at Rugby, Mr. A. P. Cobb being unseated; Viscount Weymouth, who was defeated at the last General Election by Mr. J. E. Barlow, a partner in the Calcutta firm of Barlow and Co., now unseats Mr. Barlow, while Mr. T. G. Ashton takes the seat, in which Mr. Whitbread succeeded Mr. Cyril Flower. Mr. Morrison, who takes Skipton, twice unsuccessfully contested that constituency, on both occasions being defeated by Mr. Roundell, a former Under-Secretary for the Colonies, and in Galway North Kilbride displaces Colonel Nolan, the former Parnellite whip. The only election which interests India now is that of Elgin and Nairn, which Mr. Seymour won in 1889 by a majority of 532 and in 1892 by 555. He has a new and vigorous opponent this time.

THE series of enigmas addressed some months ago to the Finance and Commerce Department of the Government of India by the local administration, concerning certain moot questions relating to import duties have answered, and the reply has been published as a Customs Circular. To the first question, whether materials for foot-bridges and over-bridges, which are not part of the permanent way of a railway, are included in the exemption of railway material for permanent way from duty, the reply is that as any exemptions under the clause is governed by the phrase "for permanent way and rolling stock," the material for over-bridges does not come within the saving clause. "Over-bridges," writes Mr. O'Conor, "whether for foot-passengers or wheel traffic, cannot ordinarily be regarded as part of the permanent way." This is undoubtedly true, although when the Act was passed it was generally supposed that the intention of the legislature was that all material intended for railway construction should be admitted free. The wit of man has as yet failed to devise a system of all-round duties, to which various exceptions apply without opening the door for many anomalies. It is certainly an anomaly that the Customs authorities should "swallow a camel" in the shape of tons of steel for rails, and should "strain at a gnat" in the shape, say, of a modest supply of iron castings for the construction of the new Grant Road Over-bridge. The Government of India were also asked whether the words "component parts thereof" in the scheduled list of railway material admitted free referred to all the articles mentioned before those words; or only to engines, tenders, carriages, waggons, trollies or trucks, and whether signal wire comes within the exemption as a component part of a signal. The reply to the first question is in the affirmative, and the words of the schedule are so plain as they stand that we are somewhat surprised that the local officers should have had any doubt on the point. They are now informed that the exemption extends to the component parts of railway signals, but a hint is given that due caution must be observed in determining whether any particular importation of wire is or is not a component part of a signal. The Collector of Customs is to decide on the facts of each case "his decision having reference to the size of the wire, its shape, and other qualities, and the circumstances of the importation." The Customs Circular also distinctly lays down that the limitation of exemption in regard to "machinery and component parts thereof," explained in No. 14 of the fourth schedule—and concerning which so much discussion was evoked at first—must be held to apply equally to component parts of railway material. The Bombay Government have further obtained the decision of the Finance and Commerce Department to the effect that telegraphic instruments and apparatus when imported by or under the orders of a railway company are to be immune from payment. Here again it seems rather remarkable that the Bombay officers should have been in doubt as to the meaning of the statement in the schedule to the effect that telegraphic instruments and apparatus are to pay duty "except those imported by or under the orders of a railway company, which are free." This exhausted the list of enquiries regarding railway requisites, and Government were next asked whether copper coin of the Government of India should be held to be taxable, a question to which an emphatic negative is given. They are far less decided in their answer to the enquiry whether the exclusion from the operations of the Tariff Act of "statuary and pictures intended to be put up in a public place" applies to such works of art when intended for a Roman Catholic Church; an institute consisting of a library and a lecture hall; a railway station; a hospital; a municipal hall, or a cemetery. The Circular states that much risk of error would attend an attempt to give a precise and exhaustive definition of the words "public place," and the Department shelters itself under the generalisation that each case must be determined on its merits. The broad principle is laid down, however, that the exemption must lie in the distinction between works of art imported for the benefit, use, or enjoyment of private persons, and those imported for devotion to general public use. In elucidation of this principle the Circular points out that shops and private galleries are not public places, and that churches and cemeteries are also excluded from that definition, inasmuch as it is in the power of certain private individuals or bodies to exclude the public from these places. For the same reason a railway station is not a "public place." Neither is a hospital, from which, by the nature of the case, the public are excluded. At the same time it is admitted that "a statue erected in front of a hospital and in full view of the passengers on a public road is erected in a public place, just as much as any other statue, which stands in the middle or on the side of a public road, from which it is fenced off by a railing." This being so, the heavy import duty charged on Lord Reay's statue should be promptly refunded. How about statues put up in private gardens, but so placed as to be "in full view of the passengers on a public road?" The Circular lays down the very obvious proposition that "a place which is the property of a public body, such as a municipality, and is by it opened to the public use, is a public place." But although all these definitions are given, the Government of India cautiously refrain from laying down any hard and fast rule on the ground that definite rulings can be given only as actual cases arise in which it is necessary to come to a decision, and although these are the days of many statues subscribed "by friends and admirers" they express the opinion that "such cases are not likely to be very numerous."

SIR JOHN TYLER has laid before the Government of the North-West Provinces and Oudh a valuable and instructive report of the jail administration in the Lieutenant-Governorship during the past year. There were no less than 42,278 direct admissi[illegible] siderably in excess [illegible] additional influx was primarily due to the great distress, which prevailed in many parts of the provinces in consequence of the failure of the harvest. Necessity is the mother of invention, and the needs of the poor labourers in bad seasons drive them to satisfy the cravings of hunger by petty pilferings. Most of the prisoners convicted under such circumstances were physically unfit to undergo a whipping, and the prospects of recovering fines being hopeless, there was no alternative but to commit to jail the "victims" as Sir John Tyler terms them. No doubt they were far better fed there than they would have been if in the enjoyment of their liberty. An extension of the benefits of the new good-conduct rules to prisoners undergoing a sentence of one year and upwards has led to an enormous increase in the number released under the system. The award of marks also constitutes a powerful lever in the maintenance of discipline. Realising that their advancement to the more coveted posts of convict officials depends upon their earning a specified minimum of marks, the prisoners usually strive to obtain the prescribed limit. Sir John Tyler therefore holds that his prediction that a further development of the system would produce a healthy and stimulating influence on the prisoners has been abundantly fulfilled. In dealing with the question of juvenile crime Sir John is precluded under Government rules from commenting upon magisterial decisions, but he alludes once more in a guarded manner to the anomaly whereby magistrates of the second and third class are debarred from ordering the confinement of boys in reformatory schools, and are yet empowered to send them to jail, where they are subject to the demoralizing influence of association with men of bad character. Without note or comment he cites one or two instances of the very inadequate reasons assigned by the convicting courts for resorting to sentences of imprisonment in preference to other forms of punishment authorised by the legislature. In one case a lad was sent to prison "to save the right of appeal," in another a hapless youth was similarly dealt with "because," said the convicting magistrate, "the boy would have certainly, under Section 349, Act X. of 1882, been sent to the Deputy Commissioner for orders had he not been induced by his father to commit the offence." It would certainly be well if all District Magistrates acted upon the principle that other forms of punishment, including a good flogging, are far better than imprisonment in the case of juvenile offenders. We cordially agree with Sir John Tyler that the law which denies to lads tried before subordinate magistrates the opportunity of reformation in an industrial school stands in need of amendment.

WHILE we have no particular desire that most of the money raised to commemorate the good work of Lord Harris in this Presidency should be devoted to adorning "Governor's Row" with another statue, we must take exception to the effort that is being made to create an impression that Lord Harris has himself spoken against the proposal. A statement to this effect was made at the large Town Hall meeting, at which the retiring Governor's praises were sung, six months ago, and was promptly discounted by Mr. Acworth. A few days later when a deputation waited upon Lord Harris to present him with an illuminated copy of the resolutions passed at the meeting, his Lordship very emphatically denied that he had expressed an opinion either for or against a statue. "I should be glad," he remarked, "to remove a misapprehension, which I think may have possibly arisen, owing to a statement which I understand was made at the meeting, and I therefore take the opportunity to inform you that I have not had the presumption to offer any opinion as to the form the memorial should take. It seems to me that that is a matter, which does not concern myself, but that it wholly concerns the members of the committee appointed, the subscribers, and any trustees who may have to be appointed to manage the funds." And yet, notwithstanding this emphatic declaration of absolute neutrality on the question, the gentleman whose remarks at the Town Hall gathering led Lord Harris to "remove the misapprehension" calmly repeated the statement that "the late Governor was against being given a statue" at the last meeting of the committee. We mention these facts leaving it to the committee and the subscribers they represent, to decide whether or no Lord Harris is a better exponent of his own views than Dr. Cowasjee Hormusjee. Various proposals as to the form of the memorial are now being canvassed, and the question is to be finally settled at a meeting of the committee to be held next Wednesday. A suggestion reaches us from a correspondent, to the effect that the money should be devoted towards the cost of securing for public use the open space, known as the "Crescent," near the Sailors' Home and converting the same into a public garden. There have been rumours for some time that Government intend to sell the Crescent for building sites, but in view of the rapidity with which open spaces in the Fort are being built over, it is to be hoped that this "lung" of an overcrowded city may still be preserved to the use of the public. The "Harris Memorial Gardens" would not only keep ever green the memory of our late Governor, but would be distinctly favourable to that physical well-being of the community, which his Lordship did so much to promote during the five years he was amongst us.

THE P. and O. Co.'s steamer Bengal, with the outward English mails of the 19th instant, left Suez for Bombay, at 10 p.m., on Thursday.

THE Bank of Bengal reduced its rate one point on Thursday, making the minimum 3 per cent.

THE Waziabad-Lyallpur Railway is expected to be finished before the end of the current official year. The section to Hafizabad will be opened at once.

AS many regiments are engaged in building new lines, it is possible that only two Bengal cavalry regiments will move during next relief season, namely, the 16th (Loralai) and 15th (Multan

FIRE AT THE CRAWFORD MARKETS.

ABOUT 1 o'clock this morning a fire broke out in a shop, belonging to Haji Joosub Peermahomed and Co., tailors, out-fitters, and general merchants, opposite the Crawford Markets, and immediately extended to the neighbouring shop, belonging to Moloo Saboo and Sons, milliners and dress-makers. Immediately after the flames had been discovered, the doors of the shop were forced open when a quantity of clothing stored on the loft was found to be on fire, and before the arrival of the fire-brigade steamers, the flames extended to the neighbouring shop. The Pydhownee and Fort and Byculla steamers were promptly on the spot, but were not brought into requisition as the water from a hose attached to a stand-pipe was found sufficient to check the fire, which was extinguished in about half-an-hour. The damage is estimated at Rs. 1,000. The origin of the outbreak has not been ascertained.

ENGLISH POLITICAL AND SOCIAL LETTER.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

LONDON, JULY 12.

THE first trial of strength between the two parties, now struggling for political supremacy in the new Parliament, takes place to-morrow. Since the Earl of Rosebery went to the Albert Hall, this day week, to open the campaign the country has been deluged with speeches by rival orators; and if the country remains apathetic or indifferent it cannot withhold its admiration of the thorough manner in which the leaders on both sides, that is such of them as are not prevented by their hereditary titles from taking part in the fight, have done their best to put the issues before the electors. Whilst the display of so much energy, mental and physical, more physical than mental I am afraid, deserves the utmost praise when it is remembered that we are now in the dog-days, it must be said that this tremendous flow of eloquence has left us pretty much as we were on the eve of the Dissolution. The Conservative programme—the Liberals still flatly refuse to admit that their opponents possess a policy—was unfolded by Lord Salisbury, in the Upper House, on Saturday, but, however desirable may be the measures adumbrated by the Premier, they are not such as to inspire any great amount of enthusiasm. The solution of pressing problems connected with the deplorable state of agriculture, the overcrowding of our large towns through the unceasing migration of the starved-out rural population, the relief of distress, caused by what Lord Salisbury vaguely calls the "vicissitudes of trade," and the improvement of the conditions of working-class home life by assisting them to become freeholders of their own dwellings—these are the proposals of the recently-formed Administration, proposals in the shaping of which Lord Rosebery professes to perceive "a potent hand connected with Birmingham." To the list of reforms enumerated by Lord Salisbury in his pronouncement must be added an Irish Land Bill, for it seems that Mr. Gerald Balfour is anxious to try his 'prentice hand on this thorny subject, and the redoubtable Mr. T. W. Russell received the necessary assurances of the Cabinet's intentions before he consented to adorn the Treasury Bench. The outcome of the week's operations, so far as the Liberals are concerned, is to show that Home Rule, though it occupies a position less prominent than it would have done if Mr. Gladstone had still been leading the Liberal forces, has certainly not been dropped, and that while the Newcastle bill of fare is again served up the piece de resistance is the Local Veto Bill. It now appears certain that there was no foundation for the rumours, of which we heard so much a few weeks ago. Instead of the Cabinet of Lord Rosebery being hopelessly divided respecting Sir William Harcourt's measure they were all unanimous in its favour, but it remains to be seen whether their faith in this particular scheme will survive if the teetotalers do not prove so strong at the polls as they claim to be. As for Sir William Harcourt he is more determined than ever to convince us that his mode of dealing with a difficulty to be encountered sooner or later by responsible statesmen is the right one. To this cause he tells us he is irrevocably pledged, and to it he will devote what remains to him of life. The House of Lords, though not the principal cry of the Liberals as it was to have been, occupies a fairly prominent position in the speeches of the Liberal leaders. Amongst the incidents of the great contest none has attracted so much notice as the affair of the Tyrone and Derry seats. Either Mr. T. E. Ellis is very maladroit, or he is extremely unlucky. He never seems to be out of scrapes. The arrangement by which the Liberal managers undertook to provide £200 a year for each of the four seats referred to, not to keep some "indolent Irishmen in luxury," but to look after the registration may be as innocent as Mr. Ellis and his friends try to make out, but they should contrive to keep their secrets better. Mr. T. M. Healy, the Puck of politics, if he wished to do the Liberals a particularly nasty turn, must be congratulated on his success, for though he apparently disclaims responsibility for the publication in the newspapers of what occurred at the Omagh Convention, he does not give one the impression of being deeply concerned at what has occurred. The Liberal Press angrily complains of the action of the Times in so severely attacking the unlucky Mr. Ellis, but with the stir created by the famous "Tweedmouth cheque" still fresh in the recollection what else could be expected at such a time as this? Another thing that has undoubtedly injured the Liberal party is the indignation caused, and rightly caused, at the inclusion of Captain Naylor-Leyland's name in the last batch of Baronets? The unpopularity of that act of Lord Rosebery, if it was his act, has been intensified by the statement of an important weekly that the sum of £10,000 was actually paid for the "honour." I say if it was Lord Rosebery's act, for I see it stated that the ex-Premier denies that he was responsible for the creation. The whole thing is more mysterious than ever, and before we have heard the last of it Lord Rosebery, I fancy, will be obliged to explain. One of the first of the elections to be decided is that of Central Finsbury. Mr. Naoroji was anxious that some other day than Tuesday should be chosen, and for a very good reason. Some time ago, and when there was no thought of the General Election coming so soon, certain day-excursions had been arranged for Tuesday by some religious bodies in the division. A former member, Mr. Howard Spensley, lost his seat through a similar coincidence. I observe that one of the excursions has been in the interests of Mr. Naoroji postponed. If the others—I am not sure whether there is one or two more—are not put off Mr. Naoroji's chances of being elected will be diminished.

Owing to the General Election, which of course overshadows everything else, the able, thoughtful, and suggestive paper on "The Sovereign Princes of India, and their Relations to the Empire," read before a distinguished audience, at the Westminster Town Hall, yesterday, by Sir Roper Lethbridge, has not attracted here quite so much attention as it will doubtless receive in India. Sir Roper commenced by quoting the wise and weighty words, uttered about twenty years ago by the Marquis of Salisbury, then Lord Cranborne, as to the spirit of the new policy ruling our dealings with the Native Chiefs and proceeded to argue that the existing system, or lack of system, is unsatisfactory to both the Government of India and the Protected States. Mr. Lee-Warner in "The Protected Princes of India" writes :—"There is no question that there is a paramount power in the British Crown, but perhaps its extent is wisely left undefined; there is subordination in the Native States, but perhaps it is better understood and not explained." "That," observed the lecturer, "is all very well; and vague indefinite powers of this sort are harmless and perhaps beneficial in the hands of high-minded and benevolent officers like Mr. Lee Warner. But no responsible statesman will maintain that the relations of a great Empire with its Protected Princes should be at the discretion of any officer, or any body of officers, however high-minded and benevolent." Mr. Tupper, author of "Our Indian Protectorate" as well as Mr. Lee-Warner, admits "no such thing as an Imperial Constitution can be described as known," but while the former says the tie is a feudatory, one the latter maintains that it is a "subordinate union." Sir Roper expressed his opinion that if the measures initiated by the much-maligned Lord Lytton had been carried through they would have afforded a complete solution of the problem. The lecturer especially deplored the fact that the Imperial Council, from which so much was expected, and which was to have been analogous to our Privy Council, should have been allowed to fall into abeyance, and said that his desire in bringing the subject forward was to advocate the taking up again of Lord Lytton's "liberal Imperial policy of 1877, with the view of carrying it to its legitimate conclusion." The Sovereign rights of the Princes are undisputed, but in extreme cases the absolutely free exercise of their power might, it was said, prove dangerous to the peace of the Empire. "How then," said Sir Roper, "arises at the very outset a great and notable difficulty—nodus vindice dignus—how to provide for this control being retained in the last resort with derogation of the sovereign dignity of the Princes, or an infringement of their personal rights and personal independence." At present when utterly insuperable difficulties arise it is left to the Viceroy to create a precedent for himself. German experience showed how the Governorships of Bombay and Madras and the other administrations could be ranged side by side with the Native States in an Imperial Indian constitution. He altogether discredited the allegation, sometimes, made that the Princes of India would object to Imperial Union, provided always that it be made perfectly clear that their Sovereign rights were to be respected and, as he hoped, increased when rendered more definite. In the discussion Sir Owen Tuder Burne, speaking as Lord Lytton's private secretary, made a very interesting and useful speech. Lord Lytton, he mentioned, found in his inquiries that many of the leading Native Chiefs were of his way of thinking, viz., that there was an indefiniteness in our mutual relations, which was not altogether satisfactory to either side, and that the assumption of the Imperial title by the Queen provided an opportunity for placing those relations on a more definite basis, and for gradually bringing the Chiefs and their States into closer co-operation with the Supreme Government. After referring to Lord Lytton's aspirations with respect to the hitherto undeveloped Imperial Council and his laudable desire to establish an Indian Heralds College and a native peerage, Sir Owen adverted to the admirable manner in which Lord Lytton's efforts to utilise the armies of the Native States have since borne fruit. Mr. T. H. Thornton, C.S.I., pointed out that Lord Lytton was the author of great works, for which he had never received credit, and those of the audience who were behind the scenes at the period referred to must have considered this tribute of praise exceedingly generous. Two native gentlemen also spoke. One of them contended that what the Native Princes desired above all things was to be let alone, both as regarded their sovereign rights and territorial possessions; while the other uttered a mild protest against the unlimited powers placed in the hands of political officers residing in Native States. In an eloquent and statesmanlike summing up, Viscount Cranbrook mentioned, what must be highly gratifying to many in India, that of all the offices under the Crown, which he has filled, the one from which he derived most pleasure was that of the Secretary of State for India. With reference to the subject of the paper he took a less optimistic or enthusiastic view of the matter than Sir Roper, the motto of his lordship in this matter, as it will probably be of the majority of persons, being festina lente. He rather demurred to the German analogy observing that India was not, like Germany, a homogeneous nation. To say, as people often did that "something must be done," he considered highly dangerous. He did not care to commit himself to vague proposals; he preferred something more tangible in the shape of a Bill or carefully prepared scheme. It was, of course, desirable that the matter discussed that afternoon should be ventilated, but the change recommended should not be forced, and he doubted if the man existed who could in the present circumstances lay down a constitution for India. Although the noble Viscount, as became one occupying his position, spoke so cautiously I have rarely, if ever, heard a more sympathetic speech, and I hope that the new arrangements of the East India Association, under whose auspices the meeting took place, will not prevent his lordship's remarks from being published in extenso, as in the old days when it had a journal.

That the spacious new theatre of the Royal United Service Institution should have been densely crowded two days ago, notwithstanding the electoral struggle and the tropical weather, to hear Captain F. E. Younghusband's narrative of the Chitral Campaign, shows how much interest attaches in this country to the recent military operations and to the future of the territory now occupied by General Low's force. The graceful impromptu speech of Major le Comte Dupontavice de Heussey, the popular Military Attaché of the French Embassy, bearing testimony to the admiration felt by the soldiers of France for the bravery of the heroic garrison and for the manner in which the expedition was carried out, has given much satisfaction in England, and will doubtless be equally gratifying to the Army in India. I mentioned at the time that although the French press apparently, from motives of jealousy, were silent on the subject, the rapidity and success with which the force under General Low marched upon Chitral made a profound impression in France as well as other continental countries, and I am glad that my information has been confirmed by one of the representatives of France. The incident is all the more welcome, because it is a rarity in these days to hear praise of anything British proceeding from French lips. Although Captain Younghusband in his paper was severely technical, and never gave politics so much as a thought, Lord Roberts, who presided, did not feel himself precluded from recapitulating his well-known views on the subject of the proposed retention of Chitral. Lord Chelmsford, I thought, looked as if he would have liked to reply to some of the chairman's arguments, but he held his peace, and perhaps wisely. The London papers have been so busily engaged in making capital for their respective parties that they have not devoted much attention to Lord Roberts' speech, but the journals that have commented upon his utterances seem to be most struck with what the ex-Commander-in-Chief in India said with reference to the effect withdrawal if carried out would have upon the tribes. "My experience," said Lord Roberts, "is that the tribesmen will cast in their lot with whichever side convinces them it has the will and the power to be victorious, whatever the length and severity of the struggle may be." "But," he went on to say, "if we now leave them alone, they will certainly put our action down to fear and to our inability to hold what we have won." It may, perhaps be considered singular that almost the only reference to the Chitral question in the electioneering orations appeared in Lord Rosebery's Albert Hall speech; and the ex-Premier made little more than a passing allusion to the subject. He merely expressed a hope that if Lord Salisbury's Government were thinking of reversing the decision arrived at by the Liberal Cabinet before their fall, an opportunity for discussion would be given before a final settlement was arrived it. Perhaps even more noteworthy than the silence of political orators is the fact that the intention now placed beyond all doubt of the Liberal Government to evacuate Chitral is not made an object of serious complaint by their opponents. This may be due to three reasons. First, the difference of opinion prevalent amongst the experts; second, doubt as to what may be the ultimate decision of a Government that contains so many Liberal Unionists; and third to the uselessness of accusing Liberals of indifference to Imperial interests, whilst they are led by a statesman who, as he said at the Albert Hall a week ago, glories in being a Liberal Imperialist, and who whatever may be his shortcomings has certainly taught his followers to recognise more generally than was the case in the not remote past that important as the domestic concerns of these islands are they are not the be-all and end-all of English politics.

I understand that Mr. William Digby, C.I.E., formerly editor of the Madras Times, was invited to contest the Sevenoaks Division of Kent in the Liberal interests. Mr. Digby declined for private reasons to come forward; but in any case he could hardly have expected to win a seat that at the last General Election was held by the Conservatives with a majority of more than 2,000 votes. In 1892 Mr. Digby stood for one of the divisions of Islington against Sir Albert Rollit, who is almost more popular with Liberals than with his own party, and who is one of the most astute electioneerers in the kingdom. Some people, including I see the artist of Punch, are surprised that Sir A. Rollit should have been left out of the Ministry. Personally I cannot say I share their astonishment; Sir Albert is rather too independent to commend himself to the approval of those responsible for making Ministers, though his independence is not of that aggressive character that makes it necessary to gag him like another gentleman who now occupies an official position. Sir A. Rollit would have made an excellent Post-master-General, and his appointment, though his success has brought him a host of enemies, would have been more appropriate, to say the least than that of his Grace the Duke of Norfolk, Hereditary Earl Marshal and Chief Butler of England.

IT is proposed to open for public traffic on the 1st September next a further section of the East Coast Railway, from Berhampore to Rambha, on the Chilka Lake, a distance of 30 miles. The final inspection, prior to opening, is to be made about the middle of next month. This addition will make a length of 418 open miles out of a total length of 508 miles from Bezwada to Naraj, the present terminus of the East Coast Railway.

ARRIVAL OF THE OVERLAND MAILS OF THE 12TH JULY.

THE English mail steamer Thames, which arrived in harbour, at 6 p.m. yesterday, under the command of Captain A. Symons, was eight hours behind the expected time owing to the strong monsoon. She left Aden on Tuesday last at 11 a.m., and since then she experienced fresh to light variable winds, to Latitude 14-00 N. and Longitude 50-30 E. Moderate to fresh south-west monsoon was then encountered with high sea to within 500 miles from Bombay. Then she had fresh west-south-west wind with overcast and rainy weather. She brought the following passengers :—

THE WEEK'S MAIL SUMMARY.

LONDON, JULY 12.

PARLIAMENT was formally dissolved on Monday, and the new Parliament is summoned to meet on the 12th of August. The country is now ringing from end to end with the din of the electoral struggle. In Scotland, Perth leads off with the polling on the 13th, but the bulk of the contests will be decided in the course of next week. The "sensation" of the campaign so far has been an extraordinary revelation made by Mr. Healy at Omagh on Monday. Mr. Healy and his supporters came into conflict with Mr. Dillon and his supporters at a county convention, and Mr. Healy charged his opponents with having "sold" four Irish seats to the "Liberal party." He gave details of the alleged corrupt act, and notwithstanding a denial from Separatist quarters, he still abides by his original statement. A report of the meeting at which this charge was made is given in another column.

The Unionist policy has been made clear at many meetings this week by—among others—the Duke of Devonshire, Mr Balfour, and Mr. Chamberlain. The Duke of Devonshire points out that the late Government have gone to the country upon one question and one only—Home Rule. Mr Balfour says that the views of the Unionist party are that the time of Parliament cannot be worse employed than in carrying out revolutionary designs, or better employed than in furthering legislative changes which touch the daily life of the people. The better housing of the working classes, encouragement of freehold occupancy, the amelioration of the lot of the aged poor, the protection of agricultural tenants in their improvements, the preservation of voluntary schools and the great religious interests bound up with them, the provision of compensation to injured men, the easing of the heavy burdens under which British agriculture is in danger of sinking, and the opening up of markets for British trade are some of the subjects upon which the labour of the Unionist Government may very well be expended. Mr. Chamberlain denies that the fight is between Tories and Liberals, and insists that it is between Unionists and Separatists. He said he wants to promote temperance without ruining publicans; to secure protection to the working classes in their employment, and to elevate their position, without destroying the industries on which their livelihoods depended; and to raise the life of all classes of the community without injury or injustice to any class or individual.

Home Rule, the reform or destruction of the House of Lords, and temperance reform—each of these is severally declared by the Separatists to be the most important question of the hour. The confusion prevalent among the party formed the outstanding theme of a very remarkable speech delivered by Mr. M'Ewan, the Home Rule M.P. for Central Edinburgh. He said he could not state upon what question the election was to be fought, as their leader spoke with divided voice, and their leaders spoke with divided voice, and their followers we puzzled to know whom to follow. The paramount question was not whether they this or that question was to have precedence, but how was the Liberal party to be preserved, for its very existence as a fighting force was in jeopardy. He spoke of the Separatist party as having come to a lamentable pass.

The Dublin Evening Herald (Parnellite) declares that in the history of England a more contemptible parliament than that which has just been dissolved cannot be pointed to. It charges the Gladstonian party with having during the past three years acted a living lie, and that they were allowed to carry on the government of the country so long is little short of a public disgrace.

An appalling disaster took place early on Tuesday morning on the Grand Trunk Railway of Canada at a little station near Quebec. Two excursion trains were proceeding with pilgrims for the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre. While the first was standing at the station the second came up at a high rate of speed, and dashed into the rear coaches, several of which were wrecked. It is said that twenty-five of the passengers were killed on the spot, and that many were so severely injured that some at least cannot recover.

A remarkable case of poisoning is reported from Limerick. Over seventy of the lady boarders and sisters of the Laurel Hill Convent were suddenly taken ill immediately after dinner. One of the ladies has died, and two are in a dangerous state. The others have recovered. A portion of the food partaken of has been sent to Dublin for analysis.

Last Saturday the Valkyrie had her third spin with Britannia and Ailsa under conditions which brought out the powers of the Cup challenger to the satisfaction of everybody. The new boat had the best of the start, but all through the race, in sailing and manœuvring, she had fairly the heels of her opponents, and finished 18 mins. 28 secs. ahead of Britannia, Ailsa being a minute or two behind.

The Board of Trade returns for June issued last Saturday show decreases in the imports for the month of 1·1 per cent., and in the exports of 0·6 per per cent.; for the six months decreases in imports of 3·5 per cent., and in the exports of 0·7 per cent.

It is officially announced that the Queen has promoted Lord Knutsford in the Peerage to the rank of Viscount, and created as Peers the Right Hon. Henry Matthews, Q.C., and Sir Henry James, Q.C.

The Earl of Hopetoun was on Wednesday presented with the freedom of Edinburgh, in recognition of his distinguished services as Governor of Victoria.

The Bisley meeting opened on Monday in brilliant weather.

THE WEATHER.

OBSERVATIONS TAKEN AT 8 A.M. ON SATURDAY, THE 27TH OF JULY 1895.

1. The barometric readings are corrected to Calcutta standard, reduced to the same temperature M° and also to the sea level and corrected to the constant gravity at Lat. 45°.

2. The 2nd column under the head 'Wind' gives the average motion of the air in miles per hour during the past 24 hours, and is obtained by dividing the total number of miles of wind registered by an anemometer during the previous 24 hours by 24.

3. The temperatures given in the table are of the air in the shade or in a small shed with open sides and a thatched or straw roof. The maximum (max.) and minimum (min.) temperatures are the highest and lowest temperatures during the 24 hours preceding 8 a.m.

4. The humidity is given as a percentage expressing the ratio of the actual amount of moisture in the air to the amount required to saturate it

SUMMARY.

Pressure has decreased briskly in Sind, Gujarat, Rajputana, Central India, and at Cawnpore, Jhansi, Saugor, Jubulpore, Hoshangabad, Amraoti, Bombay, Ahmednagar, Sholapur, Belgaum, Secunderabad, Masulipatam and Bellary, and has been steady or has changed slightly elsewhere. Readings are lowest in the north and highest in the south. Gradients are moderately steep. Winds are north-easterly at Delhi, Allahabad and Calicut, and south-westerly to north-westerly in other places. The force has been strong to light. This morning the wind velocity was 28 miles an hour at Bhuj, 24 at Bombay, 22 at Karachi and Ajmere, 20 at Rajkot and Secunderabad, and 16 at Ratnagiri and Bangalore. The maximum temperature is in moderate to very large excess of the mean of the season at Delhi, Agra, Allahabad, Karachi, Jaypore, Ajmere, Deesa, Bhuj, Neemuch, Amraoti and Nagpur, and the minimum 2° to 3° in excess at Delhi, Jeypore, Ajmere, Coimbatore and Negapatam. The highest temperature in the shade was 112° at Jacobabad and the lowest 67° at Bangalore and Belgaum. Humidity changes are small, and the skies are cloudy to overcast almost everywhere. Very heavy rain has fallen at Nagpur (7·45"), and heavy rain at Amraoti (2·18"), over an inch at Karwar (1·34"), Saugor (1·23") and Secunderabad (1·10"), an inch at Indore, and light to moderate showers at Cawnpore, Allahabad, Jhansi, Jeypore, Neemuch, Jubulpore, Hoshangabad, Raipur, Bombay, Poona, Ratnagiri, Belgaum, Goa, Mangalore, Calicut, Cochin, Masulipatam and Bellary. The monsoon gradient on the West Coast between Cochin and Bombay is fairly normal, and conditions are favourable for rain in light to moderate showers. An area of abnormally low pressure overlies the country about Allahabad, Jubulpore, Raipur and Secunderabad, and as the weather is slightly unsettled, rain is to be expected in Berar, the Central and North-West Provinces, Central India and at the northerly stations in the Madras Presidency.

W. C. NIGEL JONES,
Acting Meteorological Reporter for Western India.

[BY TELEGRAPH.]

SIMLA, JULY 27.

Saturday's pressure has decreased briskly to rapidly over North-Western and Western India, and changed by small amounts elsewhere. The depression which lay over Western Bengal yesterday has almost filled up and the pressure is highest in Ceylon, lowest in the West Punjab, and relatively low in the Gangetic Plain. The wind directions are nearly normal and the force fresh to strong over the Bay, and along the West Coast. The mean temperature has increased rapidly over Upper India and changed very little elsewhere. The mean temperature is excessive except in the Central Provinces and Madras. The day temperatures in Punjab and Rajaputana are from four to fourteen degrees above the average, and the maximum of a hundred and twelve is reported at Jacobabad, and a maxima exceeding a hundred and eight at Sirsa, Lahore, Khushab Peshawar, and Dora Ismail Khan. No rain has fallen in the Punjab Plains, North Bombay, Sind and South Madras, elsewhere the fall is fairly general, and Nagpur has received over seven inches.

LORD HOUGHTON'S testimony to the character of the Irish people in the new number of "The National Review" is deeply interesting considering that it now becomes a parting good word to those among whom he has lived as Viceroy. He says of the tourist going to Ireland: "If as he goes he seizes each opportunity of a ten minutes' talk with representatives of different classes—landlords, agents, priests, farmers, labourers, and constabulary, he will hear some things to surprise, and some to sadden him. But he will also, perhaps, return home with a feeling towards Ireland not merely of greater kindliness, but of deeper respect, having learned something of the noble patience of the poor and the piety and charity of all classes; and it may be hoped he will be a little ashamed of the airs of patronage which at first he felt himself entitled to display. He will gain some dim understanding of that pathetic charm of Ireland which makes her perhaps the best-loved by her sons of any country in the world, and which powerfully affects even those who, like the present writer, are but sojourners within her borders. He may return also with a wholesome conviction that the less he dogmatises for the future about Irish character and Irish problems of Government the less likely he will be to make a fool of himself.

Price, Rs. 25 only.

THOUSANDS sold annually. The best value ever offered. The LYNX POCKET BINOCULAR is not a toy but an achromatic glass of sharp definition and good power, measuring only 2⅝ inches by 3⅛ inches.

H. & F. PERRINS' widely known Binocular (Field Glasses) are all thoroughly achromatic, and for finish, power and sharpness of definition excel those of all other makers at the same prices. A quantity of cheap showy German rubbish is sent out to India and doubtless finds a market, but a really good achromatic glass is an altogether different thing.
